How to exit python.

Goal: Learn how to exit python.

Typing an end−of−file character (`Control-D` on Unix, `Control-Z` on Windows) at the primary prompt causes the interpreter to exit with a zero exit status. If that doesn't work, you can exit the interpreter by typing the following commands:

```
import sys
sys.exit()
```